Thoughts on Our Memory Verse

~by Rev. Paul Rieger

John 16:20 (ESV), "Truly, truly, I say to you, you will weep and lament, but the world will rejoice. You will be sorrowful, but your sorrow will turn into joy."

It's hard to keep realizing just how bad things are, how hopeless things feel. We are fearful of the future of our families, friends, nation, and world. Unbelievable hatred, tragic suffering, lack of justice, the list goes on and on. This verse for us to memorize this week is from a the Passover celebration of Jesus and His disciples. Jesus is facing the cross and tomb, the painful and difficult work that stands before him. But rather than complaining or lamenting his situation, he provides hope. He does not sugarcoat things, he is upfront and honest. There will be suffering, but it will change. The world will rejoice at your struggle, but it's not the end. You will be sorrowful, but your sorrow will turn into joy.

At the end of this chapter is further hope. John 16:33, "I have said these things to you, that in me you may have peace. In the world you will have tribulation. But take heart; I have overcome the world." In the fears and anxieties of this world and this life, take heart, it will change. Christ has triumphed over sin, death, and the devil and has given you this victory. Right now, you will suffer. But at the end of all things, Christ will bring the fullness of his victory and your sorrow will turn to joy.

We do not lose heart.

May 15 "Christians are called to proclaim the truth, and that truth is clear: All life is valuable. Each member of the human race is vital. All lives are indispensable because of Christ."

Michelle Bauman, director of Y4Life - A Life Quote from Lutherans For Life • lutheransforlife.org

We are finally able to resume our annual door offering to support women and children in our community. We will hold this door offering this weekend, May 14 & 15. Trinity's Human Care has conducted a door offering in the past for Ruth's House of Hope, the non-profit shelter and transitional housing facility for women and children here in Faribault and the Hope Center, also in Faribault, which offers direct support to victims of violence in Rice County, collaborative support to other organizations that serve victims, and educational support to the entire community.

We invite you to donate to these local non-profit organizations to help them continue their important work. You may place your offering in the jars placed on the ushers' carts by the sanctuary doors or bring it to the office.

Please make out your checks to Trinity Lutheran Church and write Ruth's House/Hope Center on the memo line. Funds donated will be equally divided between the two organizations. Additional information about each non-profit may be found at:

<https://ruthshousemn.org/> and <https://hopecentermn.org/>
