Thoughts on Our Memory Verse
~by Rev. Paul Rieger

John 16:33 "I have said these things to you, that in me you may have peace. In the world you will have tribulation. But take heart; I have overcome the world."

Since day one, we have been promised that things will be difficult. There are many who lie and say that if you pray enough, if you believe hard enough, things will be easier. When you read through scripture, you can easily see that this is wrong. But it's not meant to be easy. The challenges of life are meant to improve us.

However, those challenges can still be overwhelming. This is where this promise of Christ is so wonderful, He has overcome the world of challenges. His death and resurrection, the promise of His return, these things provide us with the strength we need to endure the challenges of this life. Because these things are preparing us for what comes next. What awaits us is a life without end, suffering, sin, or death. What awaits us is a life of perfection. Take heart, Jesus has given you eternal life and nothing will take that from you.
